NATIONAL WIDE CHURCH WAR

RESOLUTIONS REPROVING MINISTERS.

The churches are desolate in their duty in respect of the divorce evil. The ministers are not keeping themselves informed of the alarming situation in respect of life and morals, except in a general and casual way.

These were important conclusions in the report of the special committee on Christian life and morals which was submitted to the Friday afternoon session of the Northern Presbyterian Assembly by which it was unanimously adopted.

The report contained a strong recommendation for a nation-wide campaign against the evil and called upon the ministers to awake from their slumber which appears to have befallen them.

A paragraph was inserted in the report advocating work for uniform legislation on divorce in the various states.

Church's Apathy Boomed. Speaking of the rise and spread of various clubs and creeds another report said that if the church had been able to its mission in the world, Christian Science never would have obtained the foothold which it now enjoys.

SECRET PROBE BEGAN BY BURNS AGENT INTO THE PHAGAN MYSTERY

Investigator for Great Detective Believed To Be in City Hunting Phagan Slayer--Will Be on Same Plane as Pinkertons--State Won't Aid.

Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey said Friday that William J. Burns and his assistants would work on the Phagan case under the same conditions as the Pinkertons, namely, that while he would welcome any information from them, they would receive none from his office.

Mr. Dorsey issued the following statement: "Mr. Burns is welcome. We are delighted to have aid in arriving at the truth no matter what source it comes. However, Mr. Burns would have to get his information first hand so far as this office is concerned. We accept the statement without question that Mr. Burns' employment is in entire good faith, but our attitude toward him is the same as our attitude toward the Pinkertons, namely, that he will be expected to give and not to receive. The work being done by the city detectives is entirely satisfactory."

Mr. Dorsey added that there was absolutely no development of any kind in the case today except that considerable progress was being made in preparing the evidence.

It was reported the case would go to the Grand Jury today. Witnesses in the case were summoned on the form of subpoena used by the Grand Jury. They appeared before Mr. Dorsey, however, and he stated positively the case would not be presented until next week.

The Burns investigation into the Phagan murder mystery began Friday. William J. Burns, who personally will run the case, was summoned on the form of subpoena used by the Grand Jury. They appeared before Mr. Dorsey, however, and he stated positively the case would not be presented until next week.

If These Were Your Children

If You Were a Woman Working All Day, and if Your Children Were Left Alone in This Fashion, would YOU Be Peaceful and Submissive?

You feeble-minded men that oppose woman suffrage, and you "dear clinging vine" women that oppose the suffrage because you like to play the part of a petted lap dog, look at the two pictures on this page.

If you do not know WHY it is that women the world over are demanding the vote AND ARE GOING TO GET IT, look at these pictures.

The big picture shows you the life of a working woman in the English coal mines, as it actually was, only a few years ago.

The galleries in the mines are so low that a woman could not stand up in them.

The habit was to fasten a steel collar around the woman's neck, fasten a chain to the collar, running under her breast and between her legs, fasten the chain to the coal car on steel tracks AND MAKE THE WOMAN DRAG THE COAL CAR ON HER HANDS AND KNEES to the mouth of the mine.

There is no imagination or exaggeration about this. It is the plainest kind of history.

Thousands upon thousands of English women were chained like this to coal cars in mine shafts and pulled like mules on hands and knees year after year, until the palms of their hands and the knee caps became like leather.

That was done because men wanted to get out the coal as cheaply as possible and A WOMAN was the cheapest thing that could be hitched to the little coal car in the mine with low galleries.

You hear fools say that women cannot vote, because they are not able "to go to war." Is not this woman on her knees "going to war"? Do you want anything more like war, or more like HELL, which is war, than the life she leads?

And do not say that woman is all right now because she is no longer hitched up as in this picture.

English laws have prevented this at least. But they have not freed woman from slavery, either in England or in America. Woman is still hitched up, in all countries.

She is hitched to machines of all kinds, and the tugs at her industrial traces all day long.

It is just as bad being hitched to a sewing machine run by electricity at high speed or hitched to a box-making machine driven at nerve-destroying speed as to be hitched on hands and knees to a small coal car in a mine.

The little picture in this column shows you the children of the working woman of England—the children of the woman tugging on her hands and knees.

These children spend the day alone, the older caring for the younger, a few living to maturity and more than half dying in childhood.

Tens of thousands of mothers must leave their children to earn the money that will barely keep the children alive.

And others, more unhappy, must take the young children to work in the mills with them.

Do you wonder that women rebel and demand a share in the lawmaking which controls their destiny?

Do you wonder that the women of England, realizing that women must do what men have done, are driven against their will and against their nature to violence and hatred?

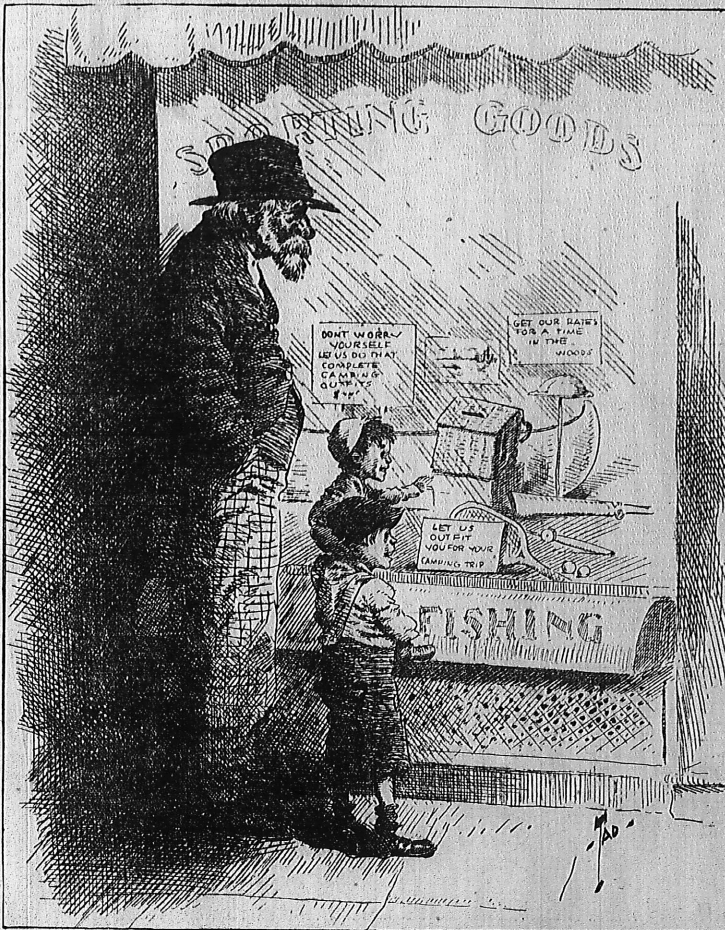

This Is How Women Worked in English Coal Mines

They do not pull coal cars on their hands and knees NOW, but they are not so much better off. Don't you think it natural that Englishwomen, and all other women should demand the right to vote and FIGHT FOR IT if necessary?—(See Editorial.)

Ella Wheeler Wilcox

Rights of a Mother-in-Law

Her Standing Depends Entirely on Her Conduct—She Has No Right to Interfere Between Husband and Wife.

Written For The Atlanta Georgian By Ella Wheeler Wilcox. Copyright, 1912, by Star Company.

A QUESTION has been propounded to the editor of The Atlanta Georgian which he requested me to answer. The question, or series of questions, pertains to the old, old subject which has troubled the mind of man since the beginning of creation, with the exception of Adam and Eve.

1. Has a mother-in-law any rights that a son-in-law in honor should respect? 2. If a mother-in-law and son-in-law have had a bitter quarrel over domestic affairs, has the son-in-law a moral right to command his wife to cease all social or loving intercourse with her mother? 3. If the wife decides, through a mistaken sense of duty to her husband, to forever remain on terms of sundered companionship with her mother-in-law, does she owe herself a proper or fitting manner toward her mother? 4. If the wife has a brother who becomes a chum of her husband under the state of affairs above mentioned, is it the son-in-law's proper duty to be detesting spirit toward his mother, who is old and alone?

These questions are entirely too abstract to permit of a definite answer; it all depends on the nature of the quarrel or misunderstanding. If the mother has been interfering with the domestic affairs of her husband and other matters which pertained solely to the husband and wife, and which they could settle between themselves, if she has been pouring venom upon names, instead of oil on troubled waters, then, indeed, the husband is right in suggesting that his wife choose between a home with himself or with her mother-in-law.

A mother-in-law has been known to incite her daughter to jealousy of a most faithful and kind husband. If he remained in the office a half hour later than usual; if he chanced to walk a block on the street with an acquaintance of the opposite sex, the mother insinuated infidelity and neglect, until the comfort of the household was destroyed by her presence.

Bewailed Being Forsaken. When the daughter, who proved to be a woman of common sense, as just as sensible, informed her mother that she would support her away from her own home, but not in it, the mother lifted her voice in a loud wail of being "forsaken" by her own offspring, and the majority of the public sympathized with her.

Yet the daughter is right. So is the husband right who takes a similar stand when he finds that harmony and peace and love exist in his home when his mother or his wife's mother is out of it, and that they are driven from the windows in affront when she enters at the door.

When a woman marries a man, when a man marries a woman, their personal, financial, domestic and sentimental affairs should be decided between them with no intervention of a third party until they ask assistance.

Many a mother fails to realize that it is her place to stand second in authority, as an adviser to a son or daughter, after either has taken the marriage vows.

If the daughter has selected a husband who has ideas, habits or customs of which the mother does not approve, it is her place to keep silent, since the daughter has made her choice, and not undertake the work of reconstructing their lives according to her ideals. A word of loving counsel or admonition is all very well, but a continual interference and espionage is quite another matter.

When the brother of the wife takes the part of the son-in-law against his mother, the evidence is somewhat strong in favor of the husband; it suggests the interfering and selfish mother-in-law, who can not permit her married children to direct their own lives.

A mother who is "old and alone" is not necessarily lovable or in the right. A son or a daughter should look after the physical well being of such a mother and should be respectful in speech and deportment toward her, but to coincide with all her whims and to adopt all her prejudices and to uphold her in all her ideas is morally wrong. The duty to HUMANITY, to one's sense of JUSTICE is a greater and higher duty than that to a parent, a child or a friend. It is a pathetic position for a son or a daughter to stand between a parent and a wife or husband.

All children are reared to think mother-love the most sacred and wonderful devotion on earth, even in the face of facts which so often prove it otherwise, and when they see a mother unhappy they are inclined to make every possible excuse for her, because they feel that to take issue against her will put them in a bad light before the whole established order of society, and that they will bear their heads against traditions wherever they turn.

It is a most pathetic situation for a man—this position between a wife and a jealous mother. My heart always aches for the man in the case even more than for the woman who is misused.

Sometimes the wife IS in the wrong. Sometimes a man marries a woman who is so narrow and so selfish and so jealous that she regards the husband's mother as her son's affection.

Changed by Husband. Sometimes a loved and cherished daughter marries a man so selfish, so tyrannical that he wants to utterly obliterate childhood and childhood from her memory and leave only HIMSELF. THE TYRANT for the wife to think about her mother-in-law.

But I must confess that I have seen but one such wife or husband where I have seen ten selfish and disagreeable mother-in-laws. And with what pleasure and admiration I recall the few beautiful and noble mother-in-laws I have known! I can count them on the fingers of one hand without including the thumb in the count.

There are just four whom I can recall. They really loved their sons, and loved whatever and whoever gave these sons happiness.

There is a dear old lady living with her son-in-law to-day who always chides the daughter if she disagrees with her husband on any trivial point. "You have such a good husband," she will say, "how can you disagree with him?" Another mother-in-law said to me one day, "if ever there was an angel upon earth it is my son's wife." In truth, a very ordinary, amiable young woman, but the mother-in-law had idealized her into something angelic.

Would that there were more like her in the land. Madame Mother-in-law, so far as your RIGHTS are concerned, you have no more right to interfere with the domestic relations of your son or daughter than has any stranger to your town.

All Entitled to Love. You are entitled to live, if you are lovable; to respect, if you make yourself worthy of it, and to respectful TREATMENT, at all events on humanitarian grounds. You are entitled to good care and protection from your children, but this does not mean that they shall always share you a member of their households; if they find it more expedient to care for you elsewhere. It does not mean that you have the privilege of criticizing the domestic arrangements of their lives and homes.

JAPANESE TO SEE FULL RIGHTS AS CITIZEN

Protest to Alien Bill Merely Preliminary to Formal Demand for Complete Privileges.

FEELING IS GROWING U. S. MUST TAKE REAL STAND

Move for New Treaty Bridging California Issue May Solve Problem Temporarily.

By JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES.
WASHINGTON, May 16.—When a nation groups its protest upon a non-arbitrable point there is not much warrant for the presumption that it is looking for peace.
Japan's protest, as interpreted by the message of President Wilson to Governor Johnson on April 22, and in the stenographic report of his conversation later with the newspaper reporters, makes plain that "national honor" was the basis of Japanese feeling in this matter, and that is not the accepted idea in Washington.
Whether Governor Johnson signs the Webb bill to-morrow or next day, the United States can not be expected to take any action in regard to the United States and Japan upon a point that can not be arbitrated and yet must be decided.
A State law that does not violate the terms of an international treaty or the Constitution can not be abrogated by the courts of the United States.
New Treaty Possible.
In case Governor Johnson's signature, then, the only policy that seems in sight for the President and Secretary of State is to enter into a new treaty with the Japanese, a new treaty covering the point of issue between the two nations. This treaty can not become vital and superior to State laws until it is fully ratified by the United States Senate.
To satisfy Japan this new treaty must cover the point at issue in the present controversy.
The most serious and entangling possibility rests in the idea now generally entertained that Japan is content from the beginning with the protest as a mere preliminary to a formal demand that its people should be eligible to citizenship in the United States.
Claiming that the Japanese are a peace-loving people that are not Meiyas, but Aryans, it is believed that Japan will demand for them the right to the United States and upon this demand that people may stand for peace or war.
Japanese negotiations have no far greater ignored the action of Arizona, whose land law is much more drastic than the original law of the California measure. This is regarded as significant. This in brief, is the situation as it stands to-day.
Practically an Ultimatum.
The Japanese Ambassador is impatient and absolutely silent. Upon the statement that Governor Johnson will sign the Webb bill his protest and the way in which it has been handled amounts practically to an ultimatum to our Government.
It is now the general feeling among officials of the State, War, and Navy Departments that the time is drawing near when our State Department will have to give a direct, positive and concrete answer to Japan.
The newspaper men, almost as a unit, have probed the question. Views to the Secretary of State Mr. Bryan is imperative. He admitted that so long as the bill was not signed the present situation could for some time be practically maintained.
The State Department indicates that there has been no change in the attitude of Japan since Mr. Bryan returned from Sacramento and Baron Chino told his wife that he would not feel that Japan will now reject any compromise that will not carry with it recognition of equality of citizenship between Japanese and American.

Mr. and Mrs. William Randolph Hearst will arrive in Atlanta Friday afternoon to remain for a few days. Mr. Guy B. Harbo, of Los Angeles, accompanies them.

Baptists Shout When New York Man Lauds Dixie

ST. LOUIS, May 16.—The Southern Baptist Convention here approved its established rule against applause when Rev. Charles H. Rust, of Rochester, N. Y., declared "Dixie is the grandest place of all." Hundreds rose to their feet and shouted. President E. C. Dargan, of Mecon, handed the gavel to the secretary, saying it was a demonstration in which he would have to join.
The convention endorsed a recommendation of the finance committee that Baptists be tithed and that a minimum of 11 a year should be expected from each member. Rev. E. L. Wesson, of Mississippi, declared many of the delegates did not believe in tithing and it would be a lie to endorse it. Dr. Dargan reprimanded him for the use of the word "lie."
The committee on the next convention day agreed to recommend Nashville.

ASSEMBLES HEAR PLEA FOR BIG REFORMS

Need of Higher Salaries for Pastors Urged Upon Delegates to United Church Conference.

NEW MODERATORS ARE INDUCTED INTO OFFICE

Recommendations involving hundreds of thousands of dollars; reports of completed and proposed work; if carried out, will mean vast and international changes marked the second day's program at the three great assemblies of Presbyterians Friday.
Discussion of the past year's work was started and the great advances shown, while steps for further accomplishment were inaugurated.
Conspicuous among the throngs at the three meetings were the newly elected moderators, who took official possession of their gavel at the opening of the sessions.
Dr. Stone is Inducted.
At the assemblies of the Northern section in the Baptist Tabernacle, Dr. John Timothy Stone, of Chicago, the "dark horse" whose spectacular rise to the head of the great assembly is a sensation, Thursday, was formally inducted as moderator. Dr. Stone delivered a brief address to him by the Rev. R. H. Evans, of the West African Church, and congratulated by a native boy in the church's industrial school on the West African coast.
The chief work at the Northern assembly formed the reading of a report of the past year's evangelistic work by Charles L. Houston, of Covington, Va. This report showed wonderful advances during that time which surpassed that of any previous year. Dr. S. S. Palmer was delegated to carry greetings to the Southern assembly. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman was recommended for reappointment to the post of representative-at-large to the Southern assembly.
Big Appropriations Asked.
At the meeting of the Southern assembly the report of the systematic benevolence committee was read. Three recommendations for appropriations were made, the first for $374,660 to prosecute the work of the present year; $217,200 for the Home Missions Society; and $164,280 for ministerial relief. The Rev. J. S. Lyons, of Louisville, Ky., presided.
Higher salaries for ministers was the chief recommendation made at the assembly of the United Presbyterian Church. This motion was presented by Walter D. Hawk, of Chicago, who declared that the present low salaries kept many good men out of the ministry. A plea to eliminate the idea of charity from funds supplied preachers was also placed before the meeting. Dr. Robert M. Russell, the new moderator, in opening the session brought up for action a recommendation of the apathy exhibited by church members toward their duties.

In his spectacular election to the moderatorship of the Northern assembly of the Presbyterian Church, Dr. John Timothy Stone, of Chicago, went from the comparative obscurity of the pastorate of a great church to a world leadership in the religious sphere. Dr. Stone, while a power in his community, was unknown to hundreds of thousands of Presbyterians.

FIVE EXPLORERS PERISH IN ARCTICS

Relief Expedition Reports Death of Lieut. Schroder-Stranz and Party in Spitzbergen.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.—CHRISTIANIA, May 16.—Death has overtaken Lieutenant Schroder-Stranz and four members of his scientific expedition party which became ice-bound in Spitzbergen while pursuing scientific researches, according to a cablegram received here today from Captain Stranz, leader of a Norwegian relief expedition.
Two members of the party, Detmers and Moser, drowned; Eberhard was frozen to death and Suwe succumbed to illness brought on by exposure. Lieutenant Schroder-Stranz was reported missing and given up as lost.
The German expedition, under Lieutenant Schroder-Stranz, was organized last year to circumnavigate Northern Europe and Asia. It was expected to be away from three to four years making scientific explorations.
At a time the party managed to get word of its whereabouts to civilization. One relief party got out, but was forced to turn back.

Grand Jury Starts Vice War in Macon

MACON, GA., May 16.—Eradication of Macon's restricted district by the enforcement of the State law is the plan of action decided upon by the Bibb County Grand Jury, which proposed to indict every woman who conducts a disorderly house. An indictment has already been returned against Corinne Morris, and it is announced that all of the other women will be similarly treated. It is also stated that the Grand Jury proposes to indict those who lease their property for immoral purposes.
This Grand Jury is the most militant in the history of the city, having already indicted all but ten of the saloons and all of the clubs for violating the prohibition law.

Granddaughter of Gen. Grant Weds

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—Miss Nellie Grant, granddaughter of General U. S. Grant and Lieutenant Commander William P. Cronan, U. S. N., were married here today. The wedding was a brilliant one and attended by society folk of San Francisco, San Diego and New York.
Miss Grant is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse R. Grant of San Diego and is a niece of the late Major General Frederick Dent Grant, U. S. A.
Miss Grant also is a cousin of Princess Alicia Cantuzzevna, Spanish princess of St. Petersburg.

$1,000 OFFERED BURNS TO TAKE PHAGAN CASE

Subscriptions From Persons Who Withhold Names Increases the Fund--Other Rewards.

The fund inaugurated to bring W. J. Burns, the renowned detective, to Atlanta to clear the Phagan mystery was augmented Friday by contributions which bring the total close to the thousand mark. More than six hundred subscriptions from persons who asked that their names be withheld have been received.
The fund thus far made public is: The Georgian, $100.
The Constitution, $100.
Colonel Palmer, $10.
The Georgian will be glad to receive contributions to the Burns fund, and reports its offer of $500 reward, in addition to the $100 subscribed above, for exclusive information leading to the capture of the slayer.
In addition to the straight fund designed to bring Burns to Atlanta, the reward of $1,000 offered by the city and the $200 reward offered by the State still holds. Other rewards also have been offered.
Colonel Palmer's announcement that Burns had signified definitely his willingness to come to Atlanta to undertake a solution of the mystery, has revived public interest in the case. What hanging hint for Mary Phagan's slayer.

Feder Offers Fee

Persons who have offered willing to contribute a fund Friday expressed a desire to swell the Burns fund. Colonel Palmer has assured that he will give his fee, as attorney for the prosecution, to bring Burns here, and will assist personally in the campaign for money sufficient to assure the great detective's presence in Atlanta.
Colonel Palmer will not make public the names of persons who have sent him money for the Burns fund, he said that the first contribution had come from several prominent citizens, who agreed to subscribe more money.

Car Plunges Forty Feet, Pinning Man

C. S. Walraven was seriously crushed in the spectacular leap of a heavy motor truck down a 40-foot embankment in front of a "Tech" dormitory on West North Avenue Friday afternoon.
Walraven was riding on the seat with the driver. Just as they started down the incline in front of the school, the driver lost all control of the machine. Both men tugged at the steering wheel, but without avail. It was too late to jump when the truck hit the embankment and made its 40-foot plunge. Walraven was rescued from underneath the machine and was hurried to Grady Hospital.
His limbs and body were badly crushed.
Walraven was partially paralyzed by the shock. The physicians were unable to say whether he would recover the use of his limbs.
The driver was apparently unhurt, but was taken to Grady for observation, as the big machine hurtled down the embankment, crushing him. Walraven was dead when he was taken to the hospital.

JAP NEXT TO SEEK FULL RIGHTS AS CITIZEN

Protest to Alien Bill Merely Preliminary to Formal Demand for Complete Privileges.

By JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES.
WASHINGTON, May 16.—When a nation grounds its protest upon a non-arbitrable point there is not much warrant for the presumption that it is looking for peace.

Whether Governor Johnson signs the Webb bill tomorrow or next day, the issue is drawn sharply between the United States and Japan upon a point that cannot be arbitrated and yet must be decided.

A State law that does not violate the terms of an international treaty or the Constitution can be abrogated by the courts of the United States.

New Treaty Possible.
In case of Governor Johnson's signature, then, the only policy that seems in sight for the President and Secretary of State is to form in conference with Baron Chinda, the Japanese Ambassador, a new treaty covering the point at issue in the present controversy.

The most serious and entangling possibility rests in the new agreement entered into by Japan from the beginning used this protest as a mere preliminary to a formal demand that its people should be eligible to citizenship in the United States.

Mayor Denies Making Fight Against Chief Further Than in Selection of Sergeant.

Although Chairman Charles H. ## BURNS WILL HUNT MARY PHAGAN'S SLAYER

Noted Detective Himself Coming to Atlanta to Solve Police Mystery.

Colonel Thomas B. Felder, noted Atlanta lawyer, Thursday issued the positive statement that William J. Burns will take charge of the Phagan investigation immediately upon his return from Europe, June 1. In the meantime a criminal investigator will be sent from the Burns Agency's New York office to prosecute the investigation. Colonel Felder gave out the following dispatch received from Raymond J. Burns, son of William J. Burns, in New York, which tells of the father's determination to take up the Phagan mystery.

Father still in Europe. Returns about June 1. He consents to take charge of Phagan investigation immediately upon his return. He suggests I send a good criminal investigator to start investigation immediately before same gets too cold. Colonel Felder declared his supreme confidence in Burns' ability to clear up the Phagan mystery and bring to light the person or persons guilty of the murder.

Mob Attacks Court at Striker's Trial
PATERNON, N. J., May 15.—A dangerous condition existed here today after the conviction of Patrick Quinlan, an industrial worker of the World, on the charge of inciting the mill strikers to riot. A mob surged toward the court house and a sharp fight ensued when the police and squad of sheriffs attacked the strikers. Two men and one woman were arrested.

Without intending to reflect in the slightest degree upon the vigilant detectives engaged upon the case, who seem to be doing their utmost to ferret out the mystery, it occurred to me that the magnitude of the crime justified an effort to add in the prosecution of the Phagan murder case. My firm was employed by neighbors and friends of the deceased shortly after the crime was committed to aid in the preparation of the case and the prosecution thereof.

2 Bandits Hold Up 200 Men and Loot A Gambling Den

TULSA, OKLA., May 15.—With drawn revolvers two masked youths held up a crowd of 200 men at the "Club Exchange" on Main Street early this morning and got away with $2,500 in cash. The upper floor of the place was crowded with men when two slender youths appeared at the entrance to the room. They had blue handkerchiefs tucked under their faces and while one man held his gun leveled at the astonished crowd, his partner went around the various tables gathering up all the money in sight and placing it in a stout canvas bag. None of the men were harmed.

MYSTERY SEEN IN FATAL AIR LINE CRASH

Detectives and Surgeons Seek Explanation for Wounds Over Engineer's Heart.

Detectives Black and Butler are investigating the story of Dr. Pace, of Fenwick, Ga., that certain wounds on the body of Engineer R. B. Brooks, one of the two men killed Wednesday night in the Seaboard Air Line wreck near Rice Station, have a suspicious appearance. The detectives found three small wounds over Brooks' heart, which they say resemble stab wounds, although they will not be able to decide definitely until the wounds have been probed. The original supposition was that these cuts were caused by the flying glass, and the detectives are not prepared to abandon this theory until a further investigation has been made.

man, of his willingness to contribute our aid, some additional amount if necessary. I immediately got into communication with Mr. Burns, and his efforts will be reflected by a telegram which reached me by way of the New York office, which is published herewith.

I feel that those interested in seeing justice vindicated, by taking this case upon the guilty parties, whom I feel certain will be forced out of punishment through the efforts of this distinguished detective, are to be congratulated that we have been able to secure his services.

The fund thus far raised by the friends and neighbors of the family of deceased, and through the efforts of the good women who have increased their contributions, falls far short of the amount required to carry it forward.

Public Asked to Donate.

The public is therefore invited to contribute to this behalf, so that the conclusion of the work an itemized statement of receipts and disbursements in this behalf will be published by the press of the city for the information of the subscribers to the fund.

In conclusion I desire to say that in what I am doing I have the approval of the Solicitor General. Hon. Hugh M. Dorsey, who will supervise and direct all work in this behalf.

THOMAS B. FELDER,
Thefelder, Anderson, Dillon & Whitman.

Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey said that he expected no developments along the line of a new arrest, nor had there been anything at all in the case that would lead him to change the direction of his prosecution.

"A substantial volume has been made up, and in the case, he said Thursday morning, unless it is evidence that has not been made public, but the volume has been extensive, and some rather important points have been brought out, the coronator will be called upon to see whether there is anything that could be called new."

At the last two days our efforts have been directed toward getting the different statements in shape and coordinating what evidence we have.

New Arrest Not Unlikely.

It has been known before that for two days deputies from the office of the Solicitor had been contemplating a new arrest in the case, but that it is not unlikely that an arrest may be made Thursday or Friday.

One of the deputies was responsible for the statement that there was almost as much evidence against the other parties, under such circumstances, there was against the two suspects held in the Tower. He said he had heard that the arrest of the two parties was not going to get away and he wanted to get the sanction of the Solicitor which has thus far been withheld.

The Solicitor said that he attaches the same importance to the slip of paper found in the old nurse as to the slip from the girl's name on which was written the name of the nurse in dress. Other than as a specimen of her handwriting, he said, it was of no importance.

He said he did not believe the girl expected to meet her brother, but that she was of an identification card, for the reason that it was in an unused purse and at her home.

The Solicitor had several conferences yesterday with lawyers, experts and attorneys and intended the evidence along this line would play an important part in the trial.

The Grand Jury meets Friday, but it is not probable the Phagan case will be submitted then. Mr. Dorsey said that he might call a special session some time before Friday of next week, but that probabilities were slight.

All the cases on the docket will be considered on that day.

The Grand Jury will have the reception of the Phagan case, and that Thursday afternoon, when the Grand Jury meeting will have several days.

If the clamor for the weakening of the denominational lines should succeed, it would be tantamount to a surrender in principle, in which we would be brought to the point where we would be indistinguishable from all other churches, and all the rights and privileges of our denomination would be lost."

2 Live Topics for Presbyterians

By REV. CHARLES STELZLE.

Whether a "damned" children dying a natural death is a "human interest" which will produce mingling emotions in the minds of most mothers, to say the least, is a question which is being asked by the members of the Southern Presbyterian Assembly now in session in Atlanta.

The subject is being raised in connection with the proposed constitution of the church, which provides for the election of a "damned" children dying a natural death is a "human interest" which will produce mingling emotions in the minds of most mothers, to say the least, is a question which is being asked by the members of the Southern Presbyterian Assembly now in session in Atlanta.

It is a matter of fact that this clause was inserted in the Westminster Confession of Faith in 1547, and it has been a part of the Confession ever since.
