STATE CHARGES PREMEDITATED CRIME

Defense Forces Dalton to Admit Jail Record

EXPLANATION OF ZACHRY DENIED

Executive's Action Comes as the Supreme Court Reverses Rul- ing Favoring Father.

The Supreme Court Tuesday reversed the decision of Judge Hammond, of Augusta, awarding the two Zachry children to the father, thereby further complicating the sensational case in which reputation papers by Governor Cole these for Zachry were refused by Governor Hinton Tuesday morning.

According to the ruling of the Supreme Court, the decision awarding the children to the father is reversed and returned to Judge Hammond's court for further hearing. The ruling further specifies that Judge Hammond may exercise his discretion in awarding the custody of the children, which is contrary to the opinion rendered by Judge Hammond, who had previously that he was forced to award the children to Zachry because of previous judgment.

The effect of the ruling will be to put the whole matter back in the hands of the courts, with the possibility that Mrs. Zachry will be awarded the custody of the two children.

Governor Hinton based his refusal on the fact that no State law had been violated by Zachry in South Carolina in that the whole case was against the defendant grew out of the desire of Mrs. Zachry to obtain the custody of the two children. The fact of the most spectacular fight for the extradition of a citizen ever recorded in Georgia occurred in the governor's office Monday. Charges and counter charges were hurled in turn by counsel for the defense and for the State of South Carolina, and at one time a personal mis-approach between Attorney Dunbar, representing Mrs. Zachry, and Attorney Phelan, representing Mr. Zachry, who charged that the case had been prosecuted with all the "indignities" of a trial. Mr. Dunbar could summon, was narrowly averted by the Governor.

States Press Lines. "You may see as enthusiastic as you like," said Governor Hinton to Mr. Phelan, "but you can't say those things. That will not do here." The hearing was as unique as it was spectacular. With the Governor presiding as both court and jury, attorneys for the defense and plaintiffs were allowed to argue their cases to their hearts' content with frequent interruptions by the Governor, who kept case tab on every bit of evidence offered.

In addition to the three attorneys for Zachry, Cohen and Phelan, of Augusta, and West, of Thompson, E. D. Clary, Mayor of Harlem, the defendant's home town, testified in behalf of Zachry. Attorneys Robert, of Columbia, S. C., and Dunbar, of Augusta, represented the State of South Carolina.

Mayor Clary, of Harlem, created a sensation when he testified that he had on one occasion pulled Mrs. Zachry and her mother off Zachry following an attack. Mrs. Zachry, he declared further, had said in his presence that if he did not get her children she would have to kill her husband.

Kidnaping Charge Releaved. The climax of the hearing was reached, however, when the attorney for Governor Hinton virtually admitted to Governor Stiles that the charge of kidnaping, as incorporated in the starting admission of Governor Hinton, was not relevant and that practically all that Mrs. Zachry wanted was the custody of the two children.

In substantiation of the latter statement Governor Hinton referred to the letter which he himself received from Mrs. Zachry, in which, he declared, it seemed that all that Mrs. Zachry wanted was the children. This testimony of the Governor and Hinton, representing Governor Hinton, broke down the whole argument of the Stiles and really marked the turning point in the hearing.

AUTO TOURS LAID BY SLATON

Calls Hearst's Sunday American Pathfinding Trip to Pacific a Sign of Progress.

Declaring that the promotion of good roads and cross-country highways, such as the proposed trans-continental route from Atlanta to San Francisco, was the best evidence of the progress of the people, Governor John M. Slaton Tuesday placed his stamp of approval on the campaign of Hearst's Sunday American to "pathfind" an all-Southern coast-to-coast route, which will be inaugurated next Monday.

The governor declared emphatically that the promotion of a project of this kind meant not only a bigger and better Georgia but a more prosperous Southland through the closer communication of the people of different States by means of good roads.

"No better evidence of the progress of a people can be had," said Governor Slaton, "than promotion of a project for better road and highway facilities. Obviously better roads within a State bring the people into closer communication with each other and this makes for increased interchange of both trade and mind."

Chance to Make Friends. "Of course there is much larger significance in this project than it appears at first sight," he said, "for it tempts a highway from our city through the rich and prosperous Southland all the way to the rich Pacific Coast. Such a highway will afford the people of different States the opportunity to become better acquainted with each other, and no one can question that this can only be highly beneficial to all concerned. It is especially needed in the South with its wonderful resources, much of which has as yet been unexplored."

"I can see no reason why this project inaugurated by the Sunday American should not go through as planned. Just such things were done by the ancient Romans--witness the great highways which stretched out in all directions from their Rome, making it the very hub of the world. Hence we can do as much if not more."

Practically every plan for the inauguration of the monster campaign to complete the "Pathfinder" Program has had scarcely a minute of rest since arriving in Atlanta Saturday, for he is leaving out not one detail of the big trip.

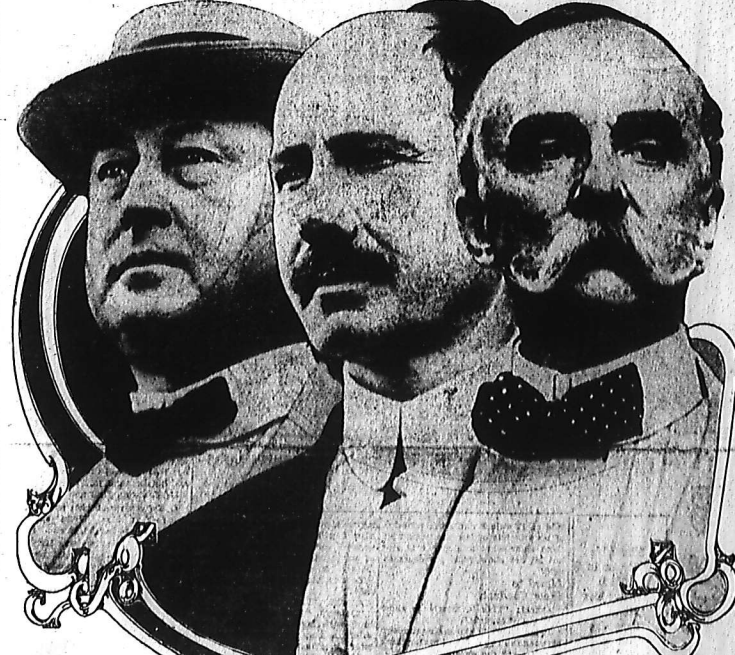

Reception Planned True Detail. He stated Tuesday that he was much pleased with the reception accorded him since arriving in Atlanta, and would leave the city next Monday with deep regret if it were not for the fact that he is engaged in a campaign which means so much not only for Atlanta, but for Georgia and the South.

The official start from Atlanta next Monday will be featured by a great parade strictly in keeping with the monster campaign which is being inaugurated. Among those who will have a place in the parade will be the Fifth Regiment Band, which will lead the procession; a big float, headed by other public officials, including Mayor Woodward and members of the Council, in specially decorated automobiles, and a number of automobiles and motorcycles that have participated in the races at the State Fair.

Great Auto Parade Planned. If indications apparent one week before the inauguration of the big campaign amount to anything, Atlanta will witness on next Monday one of the biggest motor parades ever pulled off in the city. Mr. Ferguson, accompanied by his wife and two children and a local newspaper man, will go direct to Birmingham, the first official stoppage. From Birmingham the party will proceed to Montgomery, thence to Mobile, Tusculum, Dallas, Fort Worth, Tucson, San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

SULZER BATTLES IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 12--Governor William Sulzer's political life hangs in the balance to-day. Faced by a hostile Legislature, Governor Sulzer, with his back to the wall, fought with more vigor than he had possessed in any other contest in his long political career.

Before the Assembly convened to vote on the resolution that Sulzer should be impeached for "high crimes and misdemeanors" for the alleged private use of judicial funds and resolution in Wall Street, opponents of the Governor claimed to have enough votes to pass the resolution. At least five of the judges of the Court of Appeals must participate in the impeachment trial, and supporters of Governor Sulzer rely upon the judicial rather than the legislative action of the proposed court of impeachment for a favorable decision in the involved case.

The resolution of impeachment, whose formulation is based on findings of the Franksy legislative committee, was introduced in the Assembly at 12:15 a. m., when 101 of the 126 members were present, but it was predicted that close to a full attendance would be on hand to-day. Democratic opponents to Governor Sulzer appointed committees to see that every member was in his seat.

Bill Providing Home For Wayward Girls Is Passed in House

The bill introduced in the House by Representative James C. O'Connell and Mills of Hutto County providing for a home for wayward girls to be called the "Georgia Industrial Home for Girls," carrying with it an appropriation of $20,000, was passed Tuesday after much discussion, by a vote of 113 to 16.

Twenty thousand dollars will be used as a building fund and the remaining $10,000 will be used as a maintenance fund. The bill met with bitter opposition by Fullbright of Burke County, who declared it was of no use, as the Senate would not act on the measure. The Speaker of the House informed the gentleman from Burke that he had received word from the President of the Senate that the Senate would consider it.

PLAN 16 STORIES ON BROWN AND ALLEN SITE

Dr. E. L. Connelly and associates will soon start the construction of a sixteen-story office building on the site of Brown & Allen's drug store, southeast corner of Whitehall and Alabama streets, if plans which are under way are consummated. Announcement was made unofficially on Tuesday that Dr. Connelly has been in consultation with W. L. Stodart of New York and Atlanta, and other architects, from whom he has received tentative plans.

In fact, an engineer representing a local architect surveyed the ground last week and made measurements of the store in the building. Dr. Connelly could not be reached for an explanation as to his plans, and his son, Thomas W. Connelly, refused to be interviewed.

Such a move has been contemplated for several years. Two years ago Dr. Connelly had an architect sketch a twenty-story building and since then he has had more or less definite intention to erect a building that will be a credit to the location.

The present building is 30 years old and last month he repaired or torn down. About a year ago a brick wall was placed in the center. The structure is three stories and of brick. The lot is about 50 feet square, and a six-story office building will require 125,000 square feet of floor space. The cost of this point, without change hands, but is estimated to be between $100,000 and $150,000 in a transaction with no exchange elements of $25,000 to $50,000. Brown & Allen now pay $1,000 a month for the lease. It was declared.

GIRL DENIES STATE'S VERSION OF FRANK'S WORK ON FATAL DAY

Here are the important developments Tuesday in the trial of Leo M. Frank, charged with the murder of Mary Phagan:

State announces its theory that Frank planned a criminal attack upon Mary Phagan the day before she came to the factory for her honeymoon.

The court and changing record of O. B. Dalton, the State's witness who testified that he had seen women in Frank's office, was shown up by the defense and admitted by Dalton.

Four acquaintances of Dalton testify that they would not believe him under oath and that his reputation for truth and veracity is bad.

G. E. Pollard, expert accountant, testifies that it required him three hours and eleven minutes to compile the financial sheet that the defense claims Frank prepared the afternoon of the murder.

Miss Hattie Hall, stenographer, says that Frank did not work on the financial sheet Saturday morning, the day of the crime.

Jim O'nealy's declaration that Lemmie Quinn came into the factory and left before the arrival of Monteen Stover, who came at 12:00 o'clock, is challenged by the testimony of Miss Hall, who swears Quinn did not enter the factory before she left at 12:02 o'clock.

State Announces Theory. The State definitely announced Tuesday its theory that Frank deliberately premeditated and planned a criminal attack upon Mary Phagan Friday, April 25, the day before she came to the factory and was slain.

Frank A. Hooper, associated with Solicitor Dorsey in the prosecution, made the surprising announcement of the State's attitude during a heated argument over the admissibility of a portion of the testimony of one of the defense's witnesses, Miss Hattie Hall, stenographer at Montag Bros. and occasionally employed at the National Pencil Factory.

Dorsey and Hooper were objecting strenuously to the admission of a phone conversation between Frank and Miss Hall in which Frank was reported to have asked Miss Hall to come over to the pencil factory to assist in the clerical work, saying: "I've got so much work to do that it will take me until 6 o'clock to get it done."

That the State was working upon the theory of premeditation was hinted by the questioning of Helen Ferguson several days ago, but Attorney Hooper's address to the court was the first open declaration.

"This remark was made on Saturday morning, the day after Mary Phagan's pay envelope was refused Helen Ferguson," said Mr. Hooper. "It was made in anticipation of her visit in the afternoon. It is the State's contention that Frank deliberately arranged circumstances favorable to an attack upon the girl and incidentally serving to divert any suspicion from himself."

That the State was working upon the theory of premeditation was hinted by the questioning of Helen Ferguson several days ago, but Attorney Hooper's address to the court was the first open declaration.

The court and changing record of O. B. Dalton, a State's witness against Frank, was given on an airing by Attorney Arnold. Dalton was recalled to the stand and made to admit that he had been seen by the changing girl on three separate occasions for stealing in Walton County.

Dalton also admitted that he had been indicted in 1899 in Walton County for theft and had paid a fine of $11.00.

An unassailable alibi was the object in view when the attorneys for Frank began the questioning of one line of witnesses who were called to testify in regard to every known movement of Frank Saturday, April 25, the day that Mary Phagan was slain.

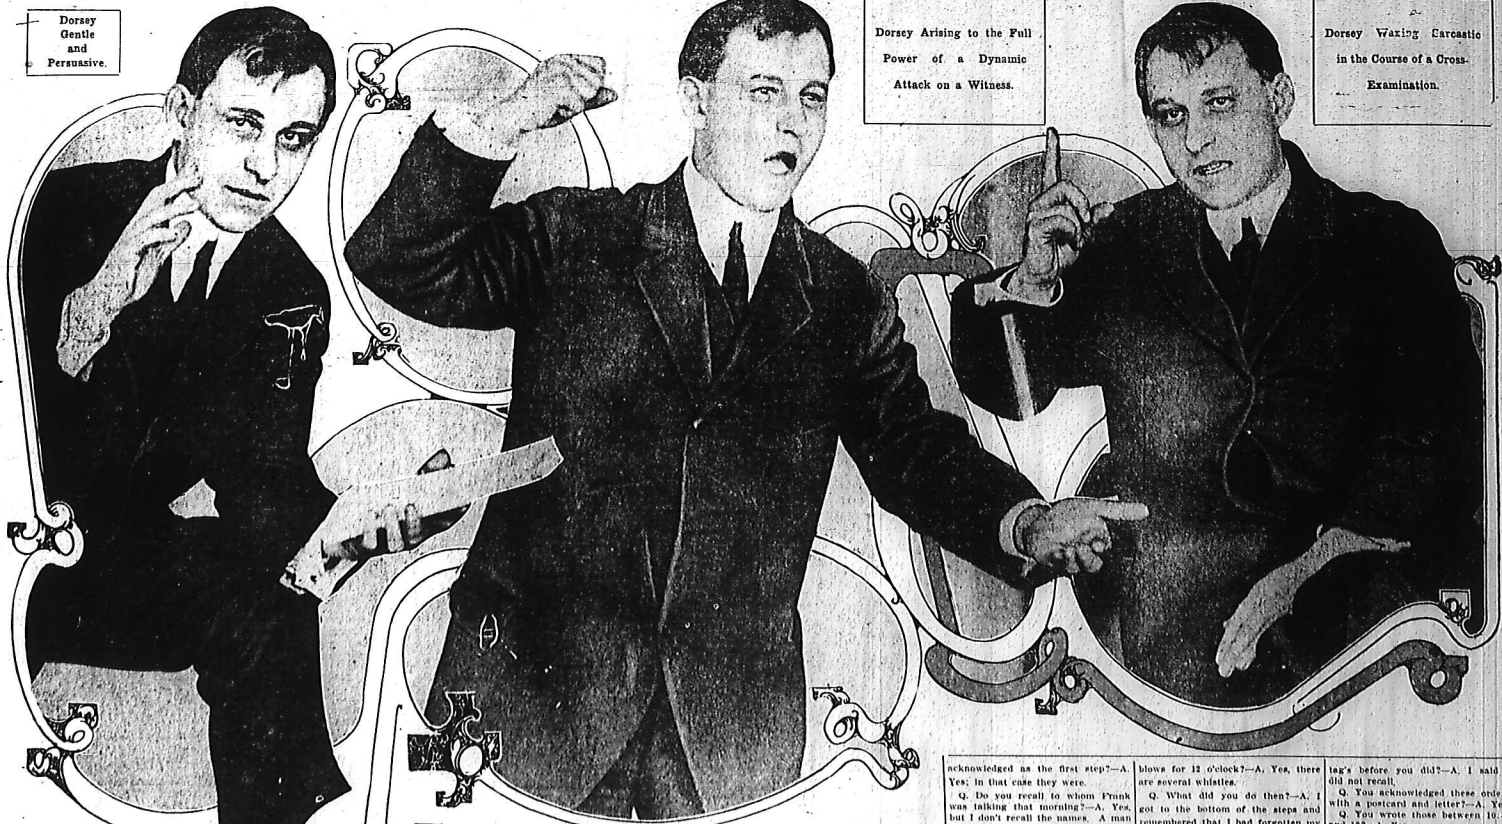

The testimony of Miss Hattie Hall was the first along this line. That of Alonzo Mann, office boy, was next.

That Frank did not do any work on the financial sheet Saturday morning was one of the most important declarations made by Miss Hall. She had testified at the coroner's inquest that she assisted Frank in compiling this sheet, but she explained to Solicitor Dorsey that she was mistaken, and it was only one of the tabulations from which the financial sheet was being made that she had worked on.

Her testimony on this point struck at the State's theory that Frank did the work in the forenoon. Miss Hall also testified that Frank stated the desire to have her help.

FRANK PLANNED ATTACK, STATE ALLEGES

for him at the factory in the afternoon and had asked Harry Ginnamer to come back to the factory in the afternoon, request which the defense will claim establish conclusively that Frank was not arranging for the commission of any crime or wrongdoing Saturday afternoon.

The witness said that she left the factory first at 12 o'clock as the white flies were blowing, but that she forgot her umbrella and returned to Frank's office for it, noting that it was 12:02 as she left finally. She declared that she did not see Linnie Quinn enter Frank's office. Conley testified that he saw Quinn enter the factory before the arrival of Montag-Rover or Mary Phagan. The Stover girl said she reached the office floor at 12:45 o'clock.

Miss Hall indignantly denied the imputation of Solicitor Dorsey that her salary had been raised as the result of the testimony she was giving. She said that it had been agreed when she entered the employ of Montag-Rover, that she was to get an increase of salary August 1, and that she had been unable to get it before this time.

Wade Campbell, an inspector at the factory, came in for a vigorous grilling at the hands of Solicitor Dorsey. Campbell testified that his sister, Mrs. Arthur White, had told him she had seen a negro at the foot of the stairs on the first floor when she went into the factory at 12:30 o'clock.

Campbell Grilled on Affidavit.

"Don't you know that what she actually said was that she saw the negro at 12:30 when she left?" inquired the Solicitor.

"Campbell denied that this was so. The Solicitor then showed Campbell an affidavit and asked if it was not his signature at the bottom. Campbell said that it looked like his writing, but that he would not say anything. He denied that he had made the statement in the affidavit in which she was quoted as saying he had made a statement of seeing the negro as she left the factory.

The witness on his redirect examination testified that he had seen Conley reading in the factory several times after the crime. Conley said on the stand that he was unable to read, except for a few simple words.

C. E. Pollard, an expert accountant, was the first witness called. He began to testify as to the time required to make out the financial sheet. Attorney Rosser said that the defense probably would conclude its expert testimony with Mr. Pollard, and that Miss Hattie Hall, stenographer for Montag-Rover, would be the next witness.

Pollard testified that the minimum time in which Frank could have compiled the financial sheet was three hours and eleven minutes. This hour on the testimony of Herbert Schiff, Frank's bookkeeper, and Joe Hunter, expert accountant.

Over Three Hours To Compile Report.

"Q. What is your business?" A. Certified public accountant.

"Q. Have you had occasion to go over the financial sheet of the National Fruit Company of the week of April 24 prepared by Leo M. Frank?" A. I went over a copy of it.

"Q. How long did you see the factory?" A. I went over it several times.

"Q. Were there any mistakes?" A. Yes.

"Q. I will get you to state an expert how long it would take to compile it?" A. I took each sheet, completed it, and typed myself as to the length of time necessary. I prepared the sheet of the 24th day. It took me ten minutes.

"Q. Were there any mistakes?" A. Yes, a little one, one of one-half cent.

"Q. It was hard to say whether it was my mistake or his."

"Q. Now state the total time it took you?" A. A total of 191 minutes, or 3 hours and 11 minutes.

"Q. Was that the quickest?" A. Yes.

"Q. In other words, you took exactly the way that he did?" A. Yes, that is what I did.

"Q. What was ready work without interference, was it?" A. Yes.

"Q. How long have you been an auditor?" A. Sixteen years.

"Q. Have you an office here?" A. Yes, with the American Audit Company.

Aimed to Show Conduct.

Arnold: "This is merely to show a matter of conduct."

Judge Roan: "I can see no analogy between the two cases. I rather think you can ask the question."

"Dorsey: "Well, this is a very important point, your honor, and we would like to give you some authorities."

Judge Roan: "All right."

Dorsey then read aloud from the Daily Fourth Georgia Herald.

Judge Roan: "Do you expect to follow that question by showing that he had certain work to do and engaged her to do it?"

Arnold: "Yes."

Judge Roan: "Then I will let you ask it."

Dorsey then took his book on the table and sat down, laughing. Arnold continued the questioning.

"Q. When did you call him first?" A. He called me up before 11 o'clock and said he had work enough to do to keep him busy until 6 o'clock.

"Dorsey: "If your honor going to let that telephone conversation in?"

The Solicitor's objection was overruled.

"Q. Miss Hall did you recognize his voice?" A. I certainly did.

"Q. What time did you see him that Saturday morning?" A. About 10 o'clock.

"Q. Had you worked for him before?" A. I had been accustomed to going over and helping him on Saturdays. I asked him if he was going to need me. He said, "Yes," that he had so much work to do that he would be busy until 6 o'clock.

Dorsey Calls Him, Roan Sustains Him.

Dorsey interrupted: "You honor, are you going to let that in?"

"Q. Did he say anything?" A. Yes, he said he was going to be busy until 6 o'clock.

"Dorsey: "You must admit it all to explain that. You would do this Young man an injustice to shift out this evidence of this day's program when there was no the slightest motive to be otherwise than truthful."

"Mr. Dorsey has sought to show," continued Mr. Arnold, "that this financial sheet could have been made up in the morning. We are just trying to show that it was impossible. Now I will read you a decision in which I participated with the father of my good friend, the late Judge Dorsey. It was 24 years ago."

Rosser: "Are you that old, Mr. Arnold?"

"Yes, I am 24."

"Dorsey: "That case has nothing to do with this one. That was a case where a man on trial for murder swore to a lie."

Arnold: "It was charged that it was a lie. We never did believe it."

Dorsey: "He was convicted."

Arnold: "Yes, he was convicted."

Judge Roan ruled: "Mr. Arnold, this young woman can show that she was called, what she was requested to do, and what was shown her to be done. She can state how long she thinks it would take to finish that work. She can not state, however, what he told her over the telephone about what he expected to do."

Frank Leaves Court With Sheriff.

Arnold: "We want to note an exception to that."

A. Yes.

"Q. Miss Hall, what time did you go to Mr. Frank's office?" A. Between 10:20 and 11 o'clock.

"Q. Did you take dictation in his inner office, or in his outer office?" A. In the inner office.

"Q. Where did you write it?" A. In the outer office.

At this point Leo Frank went out of the courtroom with Sheriff Mangum. Mr. Hooper jumped up and whispered to Mr. Arnold.

Arnold: "Yes, I waived his presence."

Judge Roan: "I excused the prisoner properly."

Hooper: "I just wanted to know if the defense had waived his presence."

"Q. Now, we only have ten orders here. See if they are the ones Frank handed you?" A. Yes. My initials are on them. They are the ones.

"Q. Now, the orders are sometimes acknowledged as the first step?" A. Yes; in that case they were.

"Q. Do you recall to whom Frank was talking that morning?" A. Yes, but I don't recall the names. A man and his son came in. Then there was Miss Cornith Hall and Mrs. White.

"Q. Do you recall what any of them said?" A. Yes, Mrs. White said she wanted to see her husband.

"Q. During this time was Mr. Frank working on this financial sheet or any other similar document?" A. He was not.

"Q. Are you familiar with his handwriting?" A. Not very.

"Q. I will get you to look on this order book and see if those orders are entered."

The witness read the eleven orders from the order book.

"Q. Now, is that your handwriting?" A. No, I think it is Mr. Frank's.

"Q. Did you write any of these requisitions?" A. No.

"Q. Do you know who did?" A. I understood Mr. Frank did.

"Q. Were the requisitions made before or after the orders were put on the book?" A. After.

Loft Factory At 12:02 P. M.

"Q. Now look at these letters and see whether Frank dictated them?" A. Yes.

"Q. How many?" A. Eight, and one he did not dictate.

"Q. Did he sign them?" A. Yes, I took them to him after I had typed them.

"Q. Did he do any work on that financial sheet while you were there?" A. No.

"Q. What time did you leave?" A. Just as I got on my hat and started for the door I heard the whistle blow for noon.

"Q. Is there a regular whistle that blows for 12 o'clock?" A. Yes, there are several whistles.

"Q. What did you do then?" A. I got to the bottom of the steps and remembered that I had forgotten my umbrella. I went back and got it. It was two minutes past 12 o'clock as I passed the time clock.

"Q. Did you see any little girl in the building?" A. I did not.

Dorsey took the witness on cross-examination.

"Q. Did you call Frank or Frank call you that Saturday morning?" A. I called him.

"Q. He had a regular stenographer, didn't he?" A. They had a stenographer, but she didn't do but about one-third enough work, so I had to go.

"Q. Miss Hall, what were you receiving at that time?" A. Ten dollars and fifty cents a week.

"Q. What are you getting now?" A. Fifteen dollars a week, and I want to explain.

"Q. Never mind, just answer my questions. Didn't you state in a soda fountain last night that the raise came to you without asking for it, or it was known that you were to be a waitress?" A. Indeed, I did not. I don't go to soda fountains. I want to explain.

Attorney Arnold: "Let her explain. I insisted that they give me this raise on July 1, and they wouldn't give it to me until August 1."

"Q. Did Frank come to Montag's before or after he called you up?" A. After.

"Q. Are you the one who called him up?" A. Yes.

"Q. You did the insisting about going to his office?" A. I certainly did not.

"Q. Did you not swear at the Corner?" A. I did not swear at the Corner.

"Q. I don't recall that Frank left Montag's before you did?" A. I said I did not recall.

"Q. You acknowledged these orders with a postcard and letter?" A. Yes.

"Q. You wrote those between 10:45 and 11?" A. Yes.

"Q. Did you state to the jury Frank left before you did?" A. I never found myself.

"Q. How long would it take you to fill out the blank?" A. I take five minutes.

Talked Over Time With Office Boy

"Q. Didn't you swear before the Corner that it would not take more than one minute?" A. I don't know.

"Q. Did you say Frank was at the office when you got there?" A. I said I did not recall.

"Q. Who came in while you were there?" A. Two men and three women.

"Q. What time was it the office boy left?" A. 11:10.

"Q. Didn't you tell the Corner you could not tell the time?" A. Yes.

"Q. How do you know now?" A. The boy told me.

"Q. You talked it over with him?" A. Yes.

"Q. What were you when those people came in?" A. In the outer office.

"Q. How long were you there when these people came in?" A. I do not recall.

"Q. Didn't you tell the Corner?" A. I did not recall.

RESIDENTS OF DALTON'S HOME COUNT RIDDLE HIS CHARACTER ON STAND

was fifteen minutes.—A. I don't remember. Q. How long was it after those letters were discovered that you commenced writing?—A. Two minutes. Q. Can you tell how long you were writing those letters?—A. No. Q. When you were writing those letters, where was Frank?—A. In his office. Q. After you finished, what did he do?—A. I took them in to him. Q. Did he say anything?—A. He said he would put them in the envelope and mail them. Q. Did you see anything there Monday?—A. I got the timebook and some papers. Q. The previous Saturday when you were over there, do you remember Frank working on the financial sheet that morning?—A. No. I helped him get up something about gross—A. He made it up. It was the average sheet. I helped him by transcribing some of the figures to the sheet.—A. Yes, but I thought it was the financial sheet. Q. Didn't you state at the coroner's inquest that you helped him the Saturday before?—A. Yes.

Found Her Error. Q. When was it you discovered it was not the financial sheet?—A. I don't know, but I went over to know I discovered the mistake myself. Q. Now, were you not at the factory the previous Saturday and helped him?—A. Yes. Q. Did you not have that financial sheet before you at the coroner's inquest, and did you not identify it?—A. I don't think so. Q. Well, you said he was working on the financial sheet that previous morning?—A. He was not. Q. Did you not tell the coroner's jury that you were in the outer office the entire time?—A. I don't know. Q. Now explain how your mind underwent this change. You said that you were not in the office and now you say you were.—A. I was rather hazy the morning before, and I had never been in a courtroom before. Q. Now, didn't you say in response to the question, "Do you know what a financial sheet is?" that you did not?—A. But I was thinking of the average sheet.

Q. Now, what did you mean by telling the coroner some of those girls came in for their pay and one of the only one you know anything about came in for her pay?—A. That morning that he would not get up that sheet until Herbert Schiff came down and got out of the factory data?—A. Yes, he said he could not go on with his work until he came down. Q. You do know that Frank said possibly he could not make up certain data?—A. He did not positively say so. He said he did not mind Mr. Schiff being off if he had done his work but that he had not done his work.

Q. Miss Hall, didn't you swear before the coroner's jury that you worked on this financial sheet which is written in ink the Saturday previous, and now today you are testifying that it was hard to identify?—A. Yes. Q. While you were working in Frank's outer office, were you talking to him and you did not know whether he was working on the financial sheet or not?—A. Yes. I saw the papers on his desk but he was working on, and the financial sheet was not among them. Attorney Arnold took the witness. Q. Why did you tell Mr. Frank that he had not signed at 12 o'clock, and said something about wanting me to help him in the afternoon, and that he had to get away at 12 o'clock, and I did get away at 12 o'clock, and I did not see him?—A. He did not positively say so. He said he did not mind Mr. Schiff being off if he had done his work but that he had not done his work.

Record Exposed. Dorsey objected to the answer, but was overruled. Miss Hall was excused and C. B. Dalton was recalled to the stand. Arnold questioned him. Q. Who is Andrew Dalton?—A. A brother-in-law. Q. With the same name?—A. Yes. Q. Who is John Dalton?—A. He is my brother. Q. Where do these men live?—A. They live at the National Pen and Pencil Company. Q. Where do you live?—A. I live at 114 1/2 North Pryor street. Q. How long have you been there?—A. About six months. Q. Where do you ever live in his company?—A. I have been in his company three times. The witness was excused, and Mrs. Minnie Smith called. Arnold questioned her. Q. Where do you work?—A. At the National Pen and Pencil Company. Q. Are you, Mrs. Smith, who lives at No. 114 South Pryor street?—A. Yes. Q. Do you know C. B. Dalton?—A. No. Q. Where do you ever live in his company?—A. No. Q. How long have you been there?—A. Since April of this year. Q. Where do you stay when you are not at work?—A. Right outside the office.

Left Frank and Miss Hall in Office. Q. How late do you work on Saturdays?—A. I had only been there two Saturdays before the murder. Q. What time did you leave the office Memorial Day?—A. At 11:30. Q. How late do you leave there?—A. Hall and Mr. Frank. Q. Do you recall what you did that morning?—A. No. Q. Did you phone Mr. Schiff?—A. Yes. Mr. Schiff told me so, but I could not get him. Q. How late did you stay those other Saturdays?—A. 3:30 to 4 o'clock. Q. Did you see Mr. Schiff bring any women there and buy them shoes?—A. No. Q. Who do you recall seeing there that day?—A. Hollister, Mr. Fry, Mr. McGraw and Mr. Darby. Q. Can you recall anybody else?—A. No. Q. Did you see Corinthia Hall?—A. I don't recall her. Q. Did you see a man come in to see about his boy?—A. I don't know. Dorsey took the witness. Q. What time did Mr. Frank get there that morning?—A. I don't remember. Q. Did he go out?—A. One time, as I recall. Q. Do you know how long he was gone that day?—A. I don't know. The witness was excused and Wade Campbell was called. Arnold questioned him. Q. Where are you employed?—A. I have been at the National Pen and Pencil Company for a year and a half. Q. Can you tell the Monday following the murder that you went into the factory at 12 o'clock she saw a negro sitting there. She said that me she knew him, and then I saw her talking to him. Arnold interrupted: "I object to what she said." "That's all right; then," Dorsey replied, "I will recall her." Miss Dalton was excused and the defendant began an attack on the character of witnesses from Walton County. H. S. Cooper, the first witness called, was accompanied by a small boy who held the boy on his lap while he testified on the witness stand. Arnold questioned him. Q. What is your business?—A. A farmer. Q. How long have you been in Walton County?—A. Fifty years. Q. Do you know C. B. Dalton?—A. Yes. Q. Do you know his general character?—A. I do. Q. Is he good or bad?—A. Bad. Q. Would you believe him under oath?—A. I would not. Would he believe him under oath?—A. I would not. H. Dalton was called for but could not be found. Dorsey said he would submit that the witness was speaking of the Dalton who had testified against Tom Houston, who was excused and H. H. Patrick was called. Arnold questioned him. Q. Where do you live?—A. In Walton County. Q. What do you do?—A. Carpenter and hatter. Q. Have you seen Dalton here this morning?—A. I shook hands with him. Q. Do you know his general character for truth and veracity and is it good or bad?—A. Bad. Q. Would you believe him on oath?—A. No. The witness was excused and W. H. Mitchell was called. Arnold questioned him. Q. Where do you live?—A. Walton County. Q. Do you know C. B. Dalton?—A. Yes. Q. Have you seen him this morning?—A. Yes. Q. Do you know his general character?—A. Yes. Q. Would you believe him under oath?—A. No. The witness was excused and L. M. Hester was called. Arnold questioned him. Q. Where do you live?—A. Walton County. Q. What is your business?—A. Farmer. Q. Do you know C. B. Dalton?—A. Yes. Q. Would you believe him under oath?—A. No. The witness was excused and Miss Mary Allen of No. 20 Ellis street, Atlanta, a woman apparently 35 years of age, was called to the stand. Arnold questioned her. Q. Where do you work?—A. At the Longley Printing Company. Q. Did you ever work for the National Pen and Pencil Company?—A. Yes, for two days. Q. Do you know C. B. Dalton?—A. Yes. Q. Did you ever walk home with him from the Buay Bay Cafe on Forsyth street?—A. I did not. Q. Were you ever with him around the National Pen and Pencil Company?—A. Yes. Q. Did he say anything to you that reflected on this woman?—A. No. "It was a reflection for him to say that let was with her. The objection was sustained. Q. How long have you known Dalton?—A. About six months. Q. Where do you ever live in his company?—A. I have been in his company three times. The witness was excused, and Mrs. Minnie Smith called. Arnold questioned her. Q. Where do you work?—A. At the National Pen and Pencil Company. Q. Are you, Mrs. Smith, who lives at No. 114 South Pryor street?—A. Yes. Q. Do you know C. B. Dalton?—A. No. Q. when she came down, he was not there, and she heard voices, but could not tell where. Q. Were you at the factory Saturday?—A. Yes. Q. At what time?—A. About 9:35. Q. Did you see Frank?—A. Yes. I went right to his office. Q. Did he say anything?—A. Yes; I was jolting him and he was jolting me. Q. Where were you on the fourth floor Tuesday morning?—A. Yes. Q. Did you see Jim Conley up there?—A. Yes. Dorsey took the witness on cross-examination. Q. Do you board with Mr. Darby?—A. No. Q. Where were you Saturday night of the murder?—A. I don't know. Q. Is it anything unusual to see spots on the metal room floor?—A. No. Judge Loan sustained the objection. Q. Darby is a married man with five children, is he not?—A. Yes. Q. How did you see Miss Dixon that night?—A. I object. Judge Loan sustained the objection. Q. Where you returned to Darby on April 24 that your sister had seen a letter in the pencil factory on Saturday, and to object?—A. Yes, he sent me to see my sister. Q. How did she tell you?—A. She said she saw a negro man on the first floor. She said she heard some loud they voices as she went in. Q. You saw that blood on the second floor?—A. I saw what they said was blood. Q. How did it look?—A. I didn't notice it close enough to tell about it. Grilled Concerning Statement to Dorsey. Q. Where do you work?—A. As an inspector at the National Pen and Pencil Company. Q. You made a statement on May 12?—A. I made a statement to you, I don't remember the date. Q. Didn't you state that your sister said she saw the negro as she was coming out?—A. I did not. Q. You deny it then?—A. I do. Q. Is this your signature?—A. It looks very much like it. Q. You can't say that this is your signature?—A. No, I would not swear to it. Q. Do you deny making this statement?—A. I told you I did. Q. Did you not read over this statement and make certain corrections?—A. Yes. Q. Did you not say in this statement that your sister was there at 12:25 and could not see her husband?—A. I don't know. Dorsey took the witness. Q. What time did Mr. Frank get there that morning?—A. I don't remember. Q. Did he go out?—A. One time, as I recall. Q. Do you know how long he was gone that day?—A. I don't know. The witness was excused and Wade Campbell was called. Arnold questioned him. Q. Where are you employed?—A. I have been at the National Pen and Pencil Company for a year and a half. Q. Can you tell the Monday following the murder that you went into the factory at 12 o'clock she saw a negro sitting there. She said that

A. I don't know. Q. Do you know whether he was reading about the crime?—A. No. Q. Was it an extra?—A. I think so. Q. You know Conley could write?—A. Yes. Q. You did not report it to the officer?—A. No. Q. Did Frank know he could write?—A. I don't know. Q. Where did you see him writing?—A. In the bathroom. Q. Did you ever see him writing with a pencil?—A. Yes. Q. Who did you tell what your sister told you?—A. Mr. Darby. Q. How often did you see those spots in the metal room?—A. Occasionally. Q. How often have you seen those spots in the hall?—A. Oh, very often. Q. You saw those spots every where, what everybody said was blood, and yet you tell the jury you did not pay any attention to it?—A. Yes. Q. Other people got down and looked at them, didn't they?—A. Yes. Roeser interrupted. "I object to what other people said and saw. It is utterly immaterial and irrelevant," he said. "Well, we want to record an objection," interrupting, "that this man was interested and that he went out to see his sister about the negro, and

The court and changing record of C. B. Dalton, State witness against Frank, was given on a string by Attorney Arnold. Dalton was recalled to the stand and made to admit that he had been sent to the changing in 1894 on three separate counts for stealing in Walton County.

Dalton also admitted that he had been indicted in 1898 in Walton County for theft and had paid a fine of $111.60.

Attorney Arnold showed the witness copies of four indictments and asked if he knew them. Dalton admitted that he had been indicted in 1898 in Walton County for theft and had paid a fine of $111.60.

SULZER BATTLES IMPEACHMENT PROCEEDINGS

Fights for Political Life While Hostile Legislature Considers Charges Against Him.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Governor William Sulzer's political life hangs in the balance to-day. Faced by a hostile Legislature, Governor Sulzer, with his back to the wall, fought with more vigor than he had pressed into any other contest in his long political career.

Before the Assembly convened to vote on the resolution that Sulzer should be impeached for "high crimes and misdemeanors" for the alleged private use of political funds and speculation in Wall Street, opponents of the Governor clamored to have enough votes to pass the resolution. At least five of the Judges of the Court of Appeals must participate in the impeachment trial, and support of Governor Sulzer rely upon the special judges who are the legislative action of the proposed court of impeachment.

The resolution of impeachment, whose formulation is based on charges of the Privy legislative committee, was introduced by the Assembly on August 10, when 101 of the 160 members of the Legislature were present. It was the first time since the passage of the resolution that Governor Sulzer has been impeached.

Washington, Aug. 12.—In an effort to minimize the connection between James Watson, former Representative from Indiana, and the National Association of Manufacturers, counsel for the latter association intends to show the Senate Lobby Committee that former Senator Watson, of Indiana, really was responsible for the organization of a tariff commission to boost his own measure.

McCRODY IN HOT CLASHES OVER BOOK BILL

In which Representative McCrody, of Shelby County, charged Speaker Burwell with having failed to keep his promise in regard to placing the McCrody schoolbook bill on the calendar, followed by another in which McCrody shook a menacing finger at Representative Holtzclaw and warned him to "look out" and reviewed the proceedings of the House Monday afternoon.

Mr. McCrody arose to a question of personal privilege shortly after the disposition of the "cat bill."

"I was promised by the Speaker of this House," he declared, "that he would place my schoolbook bill on the calendar for consideration today. He has not done it. I've heard enough about calves this afternoon to stock a book, and it seems to me that the members of the House consider calves more important than the 500,000 school children of Georgia."

"If any man loves a child better than he does a calf, let him help me get this schoolbook bill up for consideration. It looks to me like there is a studied effort to suppress my bill on the calendar."

Speaker Burwell denied that he had promised Mr. McCrody to place his bill on the calendar.

"I did not state that I would have the bill placed at the head of the order for the day," replied the Speaker. "I told Mr. McCrody that I would request the Rules Committee to place his bill on the calendar, but not bring the whole committee. I had no power to place it. The bill was placed on the calendar for consideration today, but no one could foresee that the time of the House would be taken up by little things."

House Begins Move To Shorten Trials

A resolution providing for a commission of seven members to investigate the civil and criminal procedure of Georgia with a view to shortening long-drawn-out trials and hearings was passed by the House Monday.

The commission will be composed of three members of the House, two of the Senate and two appointed by the Governor. Mr. Slater, of Bryan, in discussing the resolution, referred to the trial of Leo Frank as an example of the slowness of Georgia procedure.

Start on $1,000,000 High School in Fall

PULLMAN, ILL., Aug. 12.—Work on the buildings for the Pullman Technical High School, which will cost more than $1,000,000, will begin before the end of autumn, according to an announcement received by Pullman residents to-day.

The board appointed to administer the $1,000,000 bequest made by George M. Pullman for the school will meet here in October and decide upon the final details.

San Francisco Dry In Wee Sma' Hours

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—For the first time in history, a restriction was placed on liquor traffic in San Francisco when the new law making it illegal to sell drinks between 2 a. m. and 4 a. m. went into effect.

The law was obeyed generally throughout California.

Negro Is Lynched by Mob at Laurens, S. C.

LAURENS, S. C., Aug. 12.—Overpowering the Sheriff, battering down two doors of the jail and a door to the adjacent cage, a mob of 2,000 disarmed Richard Pickett, a young negro, from his cot and swung him to a railroad trestle.

The negro had attempted an assault on a young white girl Monday morning. He was later captured and confessed his guilt to the Sheriff.

Bloodhounds trailed the negro from the scene of the crime. The young woman could not positively identify the negro.

$900 in Prizes for Hog Exhibits at Fair

MACON, Aug. 12.—The announcement is made that $900 in prizes will be awarded for the best exhibit of Duroc Jersey, Berkshire, Poland-China and Tamworth sows at the Georgia State Fair.

TAY REFORM ACT PASSES SENATE

Question Put Squarely Up to the House—Validity of Slaton Revenue Bills in Doubt.

With the Senate substitute for the Sheppard House taxing bill back in the House for ratification after passage in the Senate in a night session Monday, and the possibility of the Administration taxing bills being thrown out on constitutional grounds, the wave of tax reform in this session of the Legislature reached its crest Tuesday morning.

Leaders in the Senate declared Tuesday morning that a serious doubt exists as to the constitutionality of presenting the three Administration taxing bills which were defeated in the House last week. The legal point is said to rest upon the constitutionality of presenting bills in one House after they have been defeated in the other. Should this opinion hold, the three bills offered for the Administration by Senators Miller, McNeill and Tarter will be thrown out and the Senate will rest on its laurels earned late Monday evening when the substitute was passed in the Senate.

Question Put Up to House

Respectfully declared Tuesday morning that it was now squarely up to the Lower House to redeem itself and adopt the taxing bill as passed by the Senate. Should the House assume a generous attitude in the matter and ratify the Senate bill, the Senate is sure, the leaders of the body say, will put back the $200,000 appropriation which it voted off of the House general appropriation bill last week. This can be done, it is claimed, without financially embarrassing the State Treasury with such a taxing law on the statute books as the Miller-Anderson bill passed by the Senate.

The bill provides for a State tax commissioner with offices in the State Capitol and county boards of assessors. According to the claims of the authors and supporters of the bill, it will increase the annual revenue of the State by at least $1,000,000, sufficient to pay off, in the present deficit within the next three years, as well as the taxes.

Passed After Hot Debate.

The bill was passed in the Senate after nearly five hours of debate Monday afternoon. Senator Miller, of the Twenty-fourth, joint author of the bill, made a vigorous defense of the measure in two and a half hour speeches. Senator DuBois, of the Thirtieth, followed Senator Miller in a vigorous attack on the bill. He declared the bill did not provide an adequate personal property tax.

Other Senators who spoke briefly in opposition to the bill were McGregor, of the Nineteenth, and Olliff, of the Fourth. Senator McNeill, in supporting the bill, charged that the Lipscomb bill, defeated in the House, had been framed by the Chamber of Commerce of Atlanta, the home town of Senator DuBois. It was for this reason, he intimated, that the Senator from the Thirtieth opposed the present bill.

Upon motion of Senator Tarter, the previous question was called and the final vote was taken. Following the vote, which was 23 to 12 in favor, President Anderson for the first time during the session congratulated the Senate. The bill was transmitted immediately to the House.

BURSING AIR TAKERS IN 7 MEN

Hurled Twenty Feet Against Wall Pratt Laboratory Engineer Is Badly Cut.

W. H. Hutchins, No. 153 Confederate avenue, assistant engineer at the N. P. Pratt Laboratory, No. 19 Auburn avenue, was blown twenty feet against the side of the building Monday morning about 11:30 o'clock when a compressed air tank exploded while Hutchins and half a dozen negro workmen were filling a tank.

The negroes were also thrown against the walls, but none was injured.

Hutchins received several small cuts about his head and face, and was severely jarred. His key ring, which was attached to his belt, was blown off. It was found 50 feet from where the explosion occurred.

The air tanks in the laboratory are about five feet long and two feet in circumference, and are used in the bottling operation. Four of them were being filled under the direction of Hutchins when the accident happened.

The explosion shook buildings a block away, and was heard a quarter of a mile. The noise and jar were especially every person in the neighborhood. Many persons in the building expecting to find workmen dead or seriously injured. All of the men in the plant were slightly stunned and were just regaining their feet when the first of them returned.

Police Sergeant Hewitt, who was more than a quarter of a mile away, saw the explosion and went to the factory. He took charge of the situation and sent Hutchins home. The negroes returned to their work.

DEFENSE BEGINS ALIBI TASK; RELATIVES OF ACCUSED ARE CALLED

Among those to be called were Mr. and Mrs. Emil Selig, Frank's parents-in-law, who know of the time he left and arrived home in the days of the tragedy; J. Q. Loeb, who rode on the street car with Frank on his return to the factory in the afternoon; Miss Rebecca Cronk, who met Frank on the street on his way to the factory, other acquaintances who saw him during the day, and employees at the pencil factory who know of some of his movements in the factory Saturday forenoon and afternoon.

Having cuffed and battered the theories of Dr. H. F. Frank about to his satisfaction, the defense in the trial of Leo M. Frank settled down Tuesday to spend most of the day in establishing exactly where Frank was practically every minute Saturday, April 26, the date upon which Mary Phagan came to her death in the National Pencil Factory.

The convening of court was delayed for several minutes because of a visit for Attorney Eustace Arnold. During that time Frank talked animatedly with his attorney, Luther Rosser. They stood in the middle of the courtroom and the prisoner seemed perfectly composed. Attorney Arnold arrived and asked that C. B. Dalton be called. He said he did not want him on the stand, but wanted to be sure he was there.

Dr. E. H. Bond, an expert accountant, was the first witness called. He began to testify as to the time required to make out the finance sheet. Attorney Rosser said that the defense probably would concede its expert testimony with Mr. Pollard, and that Mr. Justice Hall, photographer for the Montgomery Ward, would be the next witness.

Dr. Bond testified that the minimum time in which Frank could have completed the finance sheet was three hours and eleven minutes. This bore out the testimony of Herbert Schatz, Frank's co-worker, and Joel Hunter, expert accountant.

WITNESS IS CERTAIN OF 2 THINGS---HE WILL GET FEE AND 'GOOD RAGGING'

By JAMES B. NEVIN.

Reader, proverbially gentle, if not always so, be glad, be joyful, and be proud with exceeding thankfulness that you have not been summoned, no matter which way, as a witness in the Frank trial.

And even at that, knock on wood. The trial is going on, it is not quite three weeks old, three weeks, count 'em--and there is still time for somebody or other to remember that you may know something or other about something or other that may have something or other to do with the case.

Anyway, if you can't be judged and all the rest of it, be just as glad and as happy as the rest of it so you can, while the being is good or in anywise promising.
