By Ralph Smith
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 15.—The state is plain about the character of the man who was with Lind and the failure of the government to protect American lives and property south of the border after the senate chamber today.

It was made more than once clear that there is a half-trusted situation on the senate with respect to Mexico. Any day an explanation is likely. Senators flooded as they are with letters and messages calling on individuals to witness American are subjected in Mexico, are being threatened with difficulty from demanding one of the four.

Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, stirred up the Mexican debate today. He said it was, over however, Senators in fact, Charles Pottinger and others had got into it.

Senator Penrose had before the senate the facts in the case of Lind's flight, and he said that the government should be held responsible for the situation.

Georgia Court Reverses Decision Against Underwood Baseball League, Which Was Decried as "Illegal Degree"

Outlaw Organization May Result in Cities Now Forming Southern Association

To furnish continuous baseball play to the towns now comprising the Southern Association of Baseball clubs, organizers are now busy organizing in the Dixie Baseball league.

It is the idea of the promoters to have the clubs of their league play in the Southern league cities while some teams of the Southern are on the road. The organization has yet to be perfected, but from one on this point it is believed that all plans will be made early next week and a charter applied for.

Plans for the formation of the league are being very close and very little is known of just how far along the circuit. Baseball laws, however, make it practically sure that the league will be an outlaw organization, the result of restricted baseball prohibition. The formation of one league within a certain radius of towns when so to make

Mothers Bill Is Now Law Of Georgia

Mrs. George Brown Takes Measure to Governor and Secures His Signature

The bill giving the mothers of Georgia an equal standing in court with fathers in the awarding of custody of their children was signed by Governor Nathan Brown today and is now the law of the state.

The law was passed very largely through the influence of Mrs. George Brown, wife of the late Governor George Brown, who is a native specialist, who was himself a member of the general assembly for the second of the measure which means so much to the mothers of the state.

Although the bill was introduced before the session of the general assembly and the chance of passage appeared very doubtful, Mrs. Brown interested herself in it and through her personal acquaintance with the members of the house and senate, coupled with her own influence and her logical argument in its behalf, the measure made room in the legislature.

"Mrs. Brown wanted to see the bill until she saw it receive overwhelming support in both houses," she went through the senate Thursday afternoon.

"Mrs. Brown's influence was the chief reason for the passage of the bill," said a member of the house.

"I couldn't say so to that," Mrs. Brown replied, "but I am glad to see the bill passed."
