In Scathing Terms Rosser Scores Dalton, Dorsey, Police; Dorsey Will Conclude, Summing Up Case Against Frank

THEY CLOSE THE ARGUMENTS IN FAMOUS FRANK TRIAL

Attorney Luther Z. Rosser (on left) for the defense, and Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey. Mr. Rosser had not concluded his argument when court recessed for lunch. Solicitor Dorsey will follow Mr. Rosser.

DALTON EXCORIATED, CONLEY CRIBBED AND SOLICITOR PERSECUTED

Mr. Rosser Defends the Character of the Penell Factory, Declares That Few Men Could Have Stood the Test Put to Frank by a "Horde of Spying Police, Generated by Dorsey," and Ridicules the "Suspicious Circumstances" Against Frank

EVERYTHING FRANK DID OR SAID WAS DISTORTED, MAGNIFIED AND VIEWED WITH SUSPICION, HE SAYS

Mr. Rosser Was in the Midst of His Speech When Court Adjourned for Recess—When He Has Finished Solicitor Dorsey Will Make the Concluding Argument, the Judge Will Deliver His Charge and the Case Go to the Jury

Attorney Luther Z. Rosser, making the closing argument for the defense, spoke to the jury three hours and twenty minutes Friday, taking up the whole of the morning session. When court took recess for lunch Mr. Rosser plainly showed the strain of the case was with perspiration and his thin lips were sticking to his shoulders. His hair trembled from his tremendous physical exertion. His throat was sore and his voice hoarse. From the courtroom he went immediately to a hotel for a special treatment for his throat.

It seemed, after Attorney Arnold's speech, that he had covered the whole case, but nothing for his associate to say. But Mr. Rosser found a plenty. Mr. Rosser told the reporters on Thursday that his job was to do "the best he could." What the result was that he would leave to the jury. He said he was not particularly anxious to win the case, but he was sure that the jury would do the right thing. He said he was not particularly anxious to win the case, but he was sure that the jury would do the right thing.

Mr. Rosser made light of the witnesses who testified that Frank's character was bad. He declared that discreditable conduct that he had seen would be put to the jury as a matter of fact. He said he was not particularly anxious to win the case, but he was sure that the jury would do the right thing. He said he was not particularly anxious to win the case, but he was sure that the jury would do the right thing.

At 5:04 o'clock Friday morning the Frank trial resumed for what promised to be the last day outside of the jury room. Mr. Rosser continued the argument of the defense begun on Thursday, by his associate, Mr. Arnold. Following Mr. Rosser, Solicitor Dorsey made his closing argument for the prosecution. The final statement of the state's case was made by Mr. Arnold.

TRIAL OF THAW'S ABETTOR PUT OFF TO NEXT FRIDAY

New York Chauffeur Arrested on Charge of Aiding Thaw's Escape—May Be Given to New York Authorities

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The hearing in the case of the self-styled "Michael Thompson," charged with aiding the Canadian frontier, was postponed today until Friday next because documents from Matamoras, showing that Thaw had been confined there, had not been received.

Thompson came into court disguised by a pair of smoked glasses. Pictures of the night, however, and showing that he had been in the prison during the night. He was arrested on the night of the escape, and was held in the prison until he was taken to the asylum in Duchesne county.

WILSON BELIEVES HUERTA'S RULE WILL END AT EARLY DATE

President Will Launch Crusade of Adverse Public Sentiment Against Mexican Dictator Who Scorned His Proposals

BY HALPER SMITH. WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—As the next step in the solution of the Mexican difficulty a world-wide wave of public sentiment is to be launched against Huerta, acting president of Mexico, and his colleagues.

It was stated upon authority today that all the civilized governments of the world are being informed through the United States ambassadors and ministers of the steps that have been taken to bring about the end of Huerta's rule. The United States government has taken the lead in this movement.

Gangsters Try to Blow Up Mayor Gaynor, While Tammany Drops Him

Police Search for Thugs Who Placed Bomb Under Mayor's Window—Gaynor Is Abandoned by Tammany Contingent and May Take Independent Race

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The police are searching for the person or persons who placed four sticks of dynamite wrapped in a piece of bright canonic cloth in an alleyway of the city hall directly beneath Mayor Gaynor's window.

The alleged attempt to blow the mayor up with dynamite is the more interesting owing to the fact that the sticks of dynamite were placed there on the night of the election. The mayor was not in the city at that time.

Prejudice and Denial in Little Girl's Case

Plot Alleged By Hooper Is Ridiculed By Arnold In Masterly Argument

Attorney Asserts That Frank Could Not Have Known That Mary Phagan Would Not Come for Her Pay on Friday. He Declares That Jim Conley Killed the Little Girl With Robbery as His Motive-Here Is His Speech

In his speech to the jury Thursday Attorney Hubert R. Arnold, for the defense, undertook two things: First, to refute the "plot" as so termed it, outlined by Attorney Hooper for the state; that is, to expose the theory of the conspiracy.

Second, to make out a case against the negro, Jim Conley, that would be an answer to the state's case against Frank. There was other brilliant features, but these were the two big points that attracted attention.

Attorney Arnold himself had laid down this principle to fit the case: "If the case more perfectly to suit his immediate purpose of convicting Frank."

At 10 o'clock, Thursday afternoon when the state's case against Frank was argued, Attorney Hooper made a speech in which he outlined the theory of the conspiracy.

Attorney Hooper's speech was a masterpiece of logic and argument. He outlined the theory of the conspiracy, and then proceeded to show how it was impossible for Frank to have known that Mary Phagan would not come for her pay on Friday.

of a plot it is, however, now that Jim's story of the plot is the one that is being followed. As a detective, Hooper is a man of great ability, and his story is a masterpiece of logic and argument.
