

JIM CONLEY CASE TO COME TO TRIAL WEEK FROM TODAY

Jim Conley, principal witness in the Leo Frank trial and now held in jail as accessory after the fact in the killing of Mary Phagan, comes to trial a week from today before Judge Ben Hill, of the criminal division of the superior court.

Jim has materially changed since he appeared before the jury which convicted Frank. The negro is so dirty and unkempt, according to his attorney, William Smith, that he is at present scarcely recognizable.

Since his last appearance before the public, Jim has been kept all but incommunicado in the Tower. He has consorted but little with the other negro prisoners. Jim's wife, with whom he lived until his arrest, has visited him once during the past two months.

Solicitor General Dorsey in conference with the negro's attorney on Friday declared that the case would be heard a week from today.

Attorney Smith declared it to be his intention to visit the jail, "have Jim take a bath and get shaved" before he brought his client into court.

WIDOW OF MISSIONARY DIES IN SOOCHOW, CHINA

Mrs. H. C. DuBose, widow of the late Dr. Hamden C. DuBose, the noted Presbyterian missionary, is dead in Soochow, China, according to news received in Atlanta on Friday. Mrs. DuBose had been connected with the missionary work in China, particularly in co-operation with her husband during his lifetime, for more than thirty years.

Mrs. DuBose, who was a native of Alabama, had many relatives in Georgia, being a cousin of Dr. H. M. DuBose, pastor of the First Methodist church of Atlanta, and a double first cousin of W. T. DuBose, of Atlanta. She was also related to Rev. Samuel DuBose, of Toccoa.
